Gateway to Exam Success

Numerosi suggerimenti e strategie guidano lo studente a imparare un valido metodo di studio.

LISTENING

True/False/Not mentioned activities

- In True/False/Not mentioned exercises, you should read the statements BEFORE you listen to get an idea of what you are listening for.
- Be careful. The words in the statements are not always exactly the same in the listening text. They often express the same idea but in a different way.
- Put Not mentioned if you do not hear the information when you listen to the text.

SPEAKING

Reporting past events

- Before doing a speaking exam where you have to report past events, check that you know as many regular and irregular past forms as possible.
- Learn and use words or expressions of time (yesterday, then, two weeks ago ...) to explain when things happened.
- Use fillers like Well, Hmm or Let me think to give you time to think of what you want to say next.
- Use basic question words like Who? What? When? Where? How? Why? to help you think of more things to say.

The collage displays various pages from the 'Gateway to Exams' textbook, Units 5 and 6. The pages are organized into sections for Reading, Listening, Speaking, and Writing. The Listening section features a 'True/False/Not mentioned' exercise. The Speaking section includes a 'Reporting past events' exercise. The Writing section includes a 'Progressive Check' exercise. There is also a photo of a person in a market stall.

Exam preparation

A fine Section la sezione GATEWAY TO EXAMS, utile per la preparazione alle certificazioni (si focalizza sulle tecniche di esame con tipologie di attività KET, PET, FCE), ma anche come prove di verifica per la certificazione delle competenze a fine biennio.
